Principal's Message

Kia ora koutou,

The weather this week has been a bit challenging, but it didn't stop us from doing lots of great learning both inside and outside of the classroom. Wednesday's planting day with Trees for Survival was a huge success, despite some thunder and hail. I will upload the Trees for Survival Report onto Hero for you to see what was achieved by our fantastic tamariki.

Classes have been doing lots of good work around the theme of Matariki, including writing and arts and crafts. It's so exciting to see our tamariki engaging in learning and adapting to the challenges that their teachers are giving them.

There has been a really big response from parents offering to help out with the upcoming Tough Guy and Gal Challenge next Tuesday. Thank you so much for giving up your time to make this event possible for our students.

Take care everyone and have a great week.

Nga mihi nui,

Chris King
